

Review of: "Paulian Approach to Critical Thinking: Assessing an Intervention Program"

Figen Kiliç<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Mersin University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is one of the most important and current ones in terms of regulation of critical thinking. This study is also considered important in this respect. Regarding the article, it is important that the method be more descriptive. Additionally, it can be explained how the validity and reliability of measurement tools are determined. The discussion can be supported by literature.