

Review of: "The Role of Financial Literacy on Sustainable Development of Micro, Small and Medium Enterprises (MSMEs) in Africa"

Adarsh Garg¹

¹ G.L.Bajaj Institute of Management & RESEARCH

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

An interesting and important topic in current msme scenario, which has changed from last 5-7 years. But author must clearly define and measuring criteria of financial literacy, especially of organizations. Author must explain various terms like financial attitude which is very crucial to define in case of organizations. Also there has to be some control variables playing a significant role in the study, like geographical location etc.. There is gap in research sampling data in tables and in the text. Authors should use stronger statistical methods to establish a relation between variables which all are latent, like sem. Is this case talking only about economic sustainability of msme? Some clarity is required.