Thank you for giving me the opportunity to review this manuscript. However, the authors need to more adjustments to publish this article and some of them are:

1. The title needs some clarity
2. . The methodology is not well explained especially with respect to measurements
3. Table 1: has fathers in variables while the study population is mothers; this needs to be clear in the methodology as their exist conflict
4. Table 3 should be further elucidated in the methodology for clear purposes
