The manuscript is interesting. In the abstract, it is necessary to detail, especially the method. Additionally, the authors should be add their aim in the end of the introduction.

Also, "Data Collection and Analysis Methods" section must be detailed. For example, how did you do sample selection, and why did you select them?

In results section, could you add demographic characteristics of participants? Age, sex, education level, etc.

Statistical analysis must be written below of metod, not results.
