Thank you for your interesting and valuable manuscript. The authors have focused on the evaluation of the issue of Unaccounted for Water (UFW). However, there are a few points to consider:

1. It is recommended that the authors provide the main results in the abstract section.
 2. It is suggested to mention the objectives of the study in the last paragraph of the introduction.
 3. It is not clear whether the data sources were collected from field surveys or taken from reports.
 4. It is suggested that the author present the supposed criteria used for selecting the pilot area.
 5. The discussion should embed the results in previous studies and demonstrate the greatest achievements of this study.
- Also, a description of the advantages/disadvantages of the approach used should be added in this section.

Overall, this manuscript requires a comprehensive revision in all sections.
