Thank you very much for the manuscript.

I have listed my recommendations:

1-) You can highlight the novelty of the study in the abstract section. For example, you can mention that previous studies lack some novel aspects that are present in your work.

2-) The following sentence seems unclear. What do you mean by "as of 2022"?

Mg is a required cofactor for over 800 enzymatic reactions (as of 2022).

3-) You can improve the structure of the manuscript by following the format of previously published studies in this journal, such as the abstract, which should include the background, methods, results, and conclusion.

4-) You can utilize chatbots to improve the language of the manuscript.

5-) You can mention if it is a narrative review in the abstract.

6-) You can add limitations related to your manuscript.
