

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Solid Pseudopapillary Carcinoma of the Pancreas

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Solid Pseudopapillary Carcinoma of the Pancreas. NCI Thesaurus. Code C5728.

A malignant neoplasm arising from the exocrine pancreas. It occurs predominantly in young women. It is characterized by the presence of extensive necrosis and hemorrhage and is composed of polyhedral cells forming solid and pseudopapillary patterns. There is morphologic evidence of perineural invasion, vascular invasion, or extensive invasion into the surrounding tissues.