Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. If only 1 species is discussed, it might not be enough to make it into a review. It could be 1 species, but geographically different places where it grows.
2. The keywords are not complete, they are not represent the topic, especially for the bioactivities. In the keywords, author only write 2 pharmacological activities, even though many bioactivities are discussed in the review
3. The figure of the compound's structure is not beautiful because they are not in the same size
4. Because only 1 species is discussed, there are not many compound structures that can be described, so it doesn't feel like a good review.
