

Review of: "Unravelling the Phytochemical and Pharmacognosy Contour of Traditional Medicinal Plant: Pterocarpus Marsupium Roxb"

Sharif M. Al-Reza¹

¹ Islamic University Kushtia

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The work presented in the manuscript is novel and provides good information. However, some major comments are raised that should be clarified well prior to the final acceptance of the manuscript.

Minor points

- 1) As it is a research paper, the botanical description can be included within the introduction, and there is no need to give the taxonomic classification.
- 2) SI units and references should be checked throughout the manuscript to make them uniform.
- 3) Chemical structures should be written in the right form.
- 4) I did not find any tables or figures in the manuscript. Please include a table or figure.