

Review of: "NPO vs CSR: Will CSR eliminate the need for NPOs? The case of companies limited by guarantee in the UK"

Elio Borgonovi<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Bocconi University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I appreciated the paper as it underlines that social enterprises made a step ahead in the direction of generating social value. One concern I have refers to the distinction between social enterprises and social companies. Actually, social enterprises are also private. A second suggestion to improve is a better definition of social value and the measurement challenges. The last suggestion to improve is to include a comparison table at the end of the paper.