The research paper entitled "Prevalence of Visual Impairment and Associated Factors among Welders in West Shewa Zone, Oromia Region, Ethiopia," is written nicely with updated data and covers all aspects related to research! In my opinion, it's better to replace the word "Sex" with "Gender." Better to mention income in US Dollars instead of Ethiopian Birr. Chat chewing is a common practice prevalent in many parts of Ethiopia; why is it not included in the behavioral characteristics of the respondents? Better to add recommendations for the welders.
