

Review of: "Selection of an engineering institution: Students' perceptions of choice characteristics and suitability under the COVID-19 pandemic"

N P Subheesh¹

¹ Institute of Electrical and Electronics Engineers (IEEE)

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

It is a well-written comprehensive article on the less explored area of engineering institution choices under Engineering Education Research (EER). Students' perceptions are critically analysed and the COVID-19 impacts on the same has been investigated. Overall, a high-quality write-up on a research-worthy topic.