

Review of: "An insight into the possible benefits of cupping therapy in COVID-19"

Yangzhi Peng¹

¹ Chengdu University of Traditional Chinese Medicine

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This is an interesting article that can link cupping with the treatment of COVID-19, but there may be some minor problems : 1. More direct evidence is needed to prove that cupping is beneficial for the adjuvant treatment of covid-19. 2. The article describes the mechanism of action of cupping in Western medicine, but cupping comes from traditional Chinese medicine, should introduce the mechanism of treatment in Chinese medicine, may provide new ideas.