

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Primary Outcome Measure

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Primary Outcome Measure. NCI Thesaurus. Code C98772.

The primary measurement(s) or observation(s) used to measure the effect of experimental variables in a study, or for observational studies, to describe patterns of diseases or traits or associations with exposures, risk factors or treatment. These are the outcome measures used to assess the primary objective(s).