Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. The article title is relevant and timely. However, it requires some corrections for improvement.
2. The abstract needs to be rewritten, clearly stating the research topic and context, objective, methodology, results and conclusion.
3. The introduction is okay, but then the problem needs to be contextualized and stated briefly what has been done and what has not been done which the study want to address.
4. The literature review needs to be updated with latest articles and should be synthesized
5. Methodology needs more clarity
6. clearly state the theoretical and practical implications of the study with justifications
