

Review of: "Microbiological analysis of commonly consumed vegetables: A review on the ongoing studies"

Anupama Kumar

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The review is well written, however, authors need to correct some words like contentment, and toxicoinfection . Also authors should specify rules and regulation assigned for vegetables in order to protect them from microbial contamination given by the authorities mentioned in the paper. Authors can further strengthen their manuscript by adding a table regarding the food born diseases caused by microbes present on fresh produce.