

Review of: "Antimicrobial Ayurveda Crops as Superfoods for Export, Conservation & Farmers' Benefit"

Marieta Hristozkova<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Sofia University "St. Kliment Ohridski"

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The MS investigated the antimicrobial Ayurvedic crops as superfoods for export, conservation, and farmers' benefit. The focus of the research is very important, and the study complements the results already gained in this field. I would recommend citing the authors that are used in the materials and methods, because it is not clear how the authors received the results.