

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Immunoglobulin Variable Region

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Immunoglobulin Variable Region. NCI Thesaurus. Code C13245.

The portion of an antibody molecule that contains the three hypervariable regions in both the heavy and light chains. It is comprised of the amino terminal half of the light chains and at most a third of the heavy chains from the amino termini.