

Review of: "Exploiting Structure: A Survey and Analysis of Structures and Hardness Measures for Propositional Formulas"

Jing Zhang

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This paper is a research paper with a clear and well-defined hierarchy of academic ideas. However, there are some problems that needed to be addressed:

1. In the introduction section of this research, the writer should emphasize the motivation and highlights of this search.
2. The authors should have discussed and examined the interrelationships inherent in the various methods in greater depth.
3. More and updated literature and examples related to the research methods appearing in the paper should be provided in this paper to give the reader a better understanding of the evolution of the methods under study.
4. The author should make the language more simplified and explain the definitions and methods mentioned in the paper with examples to improve the readability of the paper.
5. There are some minor errors in the presentation of the language, such as line 13 in the introduction on the left side of Page 1, "It also offers an easy to handle standard format". Please check for similar errors carefully and correct them.
6. In the conclusion section of the paper, in addition to describing the work you have done, you should point out the limitations of the proposed methodology as well as future research directions.