Source

National Cancer Institute. English Bulldog. NCI Thesaurus. Code C53848.

The English Bulldog is small in stature, but wide and compact, with a thick, massive head. With its stocky legs set squarely at each corner of its compact, muscular body, its deliberate gait has become a waddle. The ears are small and thin, folded back in the form of a rose. The coat comes in red, fawn, brindle, pale yellow or washed-out red, or white, and can combine any of these colors. Height: about 12-16 inches (31-40 cm.) Weight: 49-55 pounds (22-25 kg.)
