

Review of: "A Convergence Not Metrizable"

Milen Ivanov<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Independent researcher

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

I enjoyed reading this note, and I liked its fresh feeling. However, I am not clear on what the purpose of it is: is it for the author to share his findings? If so, I would indeed encourage him!

However, from a strictly academic point of view, the presentation is lacking, at least:

1. A proper introduction stating how this result is different from the known ones, and
2. A proper list of references. As a minimum, a relevant book on Topology in English.

I was tempted to google "pointwise convergence non metrisable" to see how the result is in the reals, but, obviously, it is not my job as a reader to do this!