

Review of: "An Experimental Method to Calculate Average Metal Ions Charge by Electrolysis at Different Temperatures"

Roaa Mohammed Muneer¹

¹ Al-Furat Al-Awsat Technical University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The researcher must take into consideration the following observations:

1. The introduction must be enriched and the originality of the research and its primary objective must be mentioned.
2. The conclusion needs to add the method of work and the results
3. The conclusion is very weak
4. The practical part needs more detail, mentioning the equipment used
5. The results need more detail