

Review of: "Lived Experience of School Leaders in Supervising during Remote Teaching"

Rohini Chand¹

¹ Fiji National University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Firstly, a relevant topic chosen as it provides an insight on the challenges and practices school leaders need to be mindful of should there be another pandemic. Similar research have mostly focused on lived experiences of students and teachers.

Areas that need refining for clarity and scope of the research is:

*Introduction- include citations or sources to make credible arguments.

*Problem statement to be well articulated-write with clarity.

*Need to expand lit review to strengthen your points highlighting similar situations in other countries. This will also help you to identify gaps in your home country during remote teaching.

*Refine conclusion- make a strong statement to pave the way forward where remote teaching may be needed.