Thank you for sharing your manuscript. Overall, you have ample material to explore your research question. I comprehend the outline you aim to follow in your investigation. However, the manuscript could benefit from further revision in terms of its expression of ideas. The text needs improvement with English writing, but more importantly, it could be enhanced in terms of crafting more explanatory sentences. For instance, instead of using the term 'geographical features,' the data in the text is more about the 'physical features' of green spaces.
