

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Epidermolysis bullosa simplex with circinate migratory erythema

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Epidermolysis bullosa simplex with circinate migratory erythema. ORPHA:158681

Epidermolysis bullosa simplex with circinate migratory erythema (EBS-migr) is a basal subtype of epidermolysis bullosa simplex (EBS, see this term) characterized by belt-like areas of erythema with multiple vesicles and small blisters at the advancing edge of erythema.