

Review of: "How Competent are Health Professionals in Delivering Nutrition Education? A Cross-Sectional Study in Ebonyi State, Nigeria"

Arda Borlu<sup>1</sup>

<sup>1</sup> Erciyes University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The article is interesting and points to an important subject. But some points need clarification. Was written or verbal consent obtained from the participants? Since dietitians are a professional group that has received training and practices on this subject, it may be more accurate to state their data separately. "7.4% had good nutrition knowledge, while 43.0% (180) had sufficient competence in nutrition education." These statements seem contradictory; please explain.