

Review of: "Digital Literacy in People with Disabilities: An Overview and Narrative Review"

Álvaro Pérez García¹

¹ Universidad Internacional De La Rioja

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The proposed article is very interesting and can be of significant value to the scientific community. It is well structured and is supported by an extensive and up-to-date bibliography to bolster the theoretical basis of the article. The conclusions are interesting and reinforce what is stated in the corpus of the paper. It is an article that currently has almost nothing to change. Excellent.