1) The abstract does not summarize all works done in this study. The specific and major details and results are missing in the abstract in the manuscript. Check that the abstract provides an accurate synopsis of the paper. 2) The introduction part is too lengthy and lacks the methodological review to come across the research gap, problem statement and objective. 3) Check your use of units and convert to SI where necessary. 4) English is quite OK, however some paragraphs are quite confused. Please read through the manuscript and revise. The authors should carefully read through and correct some typos. 5) Equations should be referenced. So, provide a reference for all the equations used in the context. clarify ambiguities in display equations, caused by use of solidus (the division slash /). explain unusual symbols required. 6) It is suggested to carry out some meaningful comparison with other published result(s) in order to upgrade the level of this manuscript.
