Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

- The literature review provides a comprehensive overview of the factors affecting the economic crisis in Ethiopia. However, the organization could be improved for better clarity. Consider reorganizing the sections to flow more logically, perhaps grouping factors by their macroeconomic, social, or political nature.
- The review seems to primarily draw on older literature. It would be beneficial to include more recent studies to ensure the analysis is up-to-date and reflective of the current economic context in Ethiopia. This will enhance the relevance and applicability of the findings.
- It is essential to provide insights into the methodological rigor of the studies included in the review. Evaluate and discuss the quality of the research methodologies employed in the selected literature, and highlight any potential biases that might affect the validity of the conclusions drawn.
- Ensure that all citations are accurate and properly formatted. Additionally, consider expanding the reference list with more recent and relevant sources to reinforce the credibility of the literature review.
