Review of: "A Security Framework for the Mobile Application Using Color Barcode"

Yinglei Song[1]

1 Jiangsu University of Science and Technology

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Two major points:

1. It remains unclear what the advantages of the proposed framework are over other ones. It would be better if the authors could include a discussion of that in the text.

2. The authors only show the design of the framework. No experimental data regarding its performance in practice is presented. It would be better if the authors could include some experimental data to further support the effectiveness of the proposed framework.