Dear editors and authors,

I enclose my comments on the article "Negative and Extrapositive Attitudes Towards Cold-Blooded Tetrapods Among Students of the Secondary Education Course: Ethical and Normative Aspects".

The article has the potential to be published, but it needs adjustments and a new evaluation.

The data is super interesting and important regarding students' perceptions of snakes and turtles. However, the authors need to present the data in a better way, exploring other alternatives for the tables and providing a better comparison of responses between snakes and turtles. Another point for improvement is the adjustment of the methodology, which does not clearly present how the textbooks were evaluated.

In any case, thank you for the opportunity, and I am available for a new round of evaluation.

Best regards,
