Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

- Topic is interesting but the text does not show that
- References within the text have to be written according to journal guidelines: last name(s), year.
- There is a repetition of some ideas in more than one sentence. Ideas may be better combined to provide some depth to the manuscript.
- Introduction needs to be more focused on the topic at hand.
- The use of 'we' is odd knowing the fact that there is one author.
- There are no synthetic fertilizers?
- The language use needs to be revised.
- The manuscript needs to be made more concise in its presentation of the problem and the solution.
