Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Literature is incomprehensive and incomplete. References and discussions are too brief. The authors are advised to conduct research studies of the past for all the variables studied before constructing the hypothesis.
2. It would be better if the author could explain the question of the survey built for this study. The study will be more detailed and focused. The question in the questionnaire developed for each selected variable is important to answer the objective of the study.
3. The Linkert scale of the questionnaire is also not detailed in this study.
4. The implications of the findings of this study are not described in detail. The reviewer suggests that the author can give a serious research and discussion of each finding of the study. This is crucial to ensuring that this study can be referenced and guided by other researchers.
5. Overall, the reviewer suggested that the author make major corrections to ensure that the paper reaches good quality.
