

Review of: "Assessing the knowledge, attitude, and practice (KAP) of parents and service providers' perceptions on invalid vaccine doses: A study in urban slums of Bangladesh"

Md. Emran Hossain¹

¹ Texas State University

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

2. The motivation of the study is not well articulated
3. The research gap and state-art is not explained
4. Please include recent literature in the literature review section.
5. Please expand the contribution of this study and be specific. Suppose, Firstly.... secondly....,
6. The methodology is well explained.
7. The discussion section needs improvement with practical implications and supported by relevant literature.
8. More in-depth and logical explanation is compulsory to improve the result's discussion.
9. The policy implication section is core section of a research work; thus, policy implication needs to immense rework and should be align with the main findings and should be relevant with the sample country's context.