Suggestions:

1. Consider providing more context in the opening sentence about the significance of pharmaceutical inventory management and stockouts in the healthcare system.
2. Provide a brief overview of the methodologies used for data analysis to give readers an idea of the study approach.
3. Clearly state the main findings and implications of the study.
4. Mention the potential limitations of the study to acknowledge any constraints or biases in the data.
5. Consider summarizing the key recommendations based on the study findings.
6. Ensure the abstract adheres to a concise and clear structure.
