

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Notch Receptor Intracellular Domain

National Cancer Institute

Source

National Cancer Institute. Notch Receptor Intracellular Domain. NCI Thesaurus. Code C111794.

The free carboxy-terminal intracellular domain (ICD) of a notch family protein, which is a product of regulated intramembrane proteolysis mediated by the gamma-secretase enzyme complex. This protein fragment is involved in transcriptional regulation of target genes.