

Review of: "Factors Affecting the Safety Management Practices of Road Construction in the Sidama Region Road Administration"

Zaid Ali Kadhim AlZaidi

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

The manuscript analyses Factors Affecting the Safety Management Practices of Road Construction in the Sidama Region Road Administration. The research methodology is more reliable, the research process is more rigorous, and the conclusions of the study are of practical value. However, there are still several issues that need to be improved.

1. The detailed demographic information of the respondents and interviewees is missing, such as age, work experience, position, and work unit attributes, and there is no introduction about the surveyed projects.
2. When mentioning what limitations the researchers faced when conducting this study, the work will become more qualitative.
3. Adding a questionnaire form prepared in the study is possible to make it more reliable.
4. The theoretical innovation points of this article were not explained in the discussion or conclusion section.
5. The English language must be revised to improve the quality of the manuscript.