The corrections suggested are:

1. The article being a literature review does not require a result section.
2. The author should provide more literary information rather than merely critically analyzing the previous studies as this is not a systematic review.
3. Please reduce the title as it is too elaborate.
4. There is too many sections which can be compiled in a condense manner.
5. Avoid repeating the same reference.
6. The article needs to be restructured so it can be accepted and published.
