

Review of: "Ancient Houses in Ben Tre City: A Multifaceted Approach to Preserve Artistic Architectural Heritage and Boost Local Tourism"

Yu Lan Lee

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

My suggestions are as follows:

1. Adding geographical information about the cities mentioned in the article will help readers understand the ancient houses and help explain the possibility of combining the study of ancient houses with tourism. Such as: Where are the ancient houses? Are there any famous tourist attractions near ancient houses? Is it possible that ancient houses and tourist attractions can be connected?
2. For a foreign reader, it is not easy to understand the value of the architecture in the article only from some photos. I recommend enhancing the value of ancient houses through their stories, shapes, colors, sculptures, paintings, furniture, or other aspects. It will help explain the attraction of connecting the ancient houses with sightseeing.
3. If more photos can be provided or patterns to illustrate, the entire article will be richer.