1) Abstract

Explain the research objectives with population and methodology, year/period and keywords

2) Introduction

The presentation of the phenomenon is not clear and should be accompanied by data that is up to date for the last five years and each paragraph must be followed by a source or reference

3) Match the explanation of each concept to valid phenomena and sources

4) Methodology

Don't use data that is too old and state how to analyze the data

5) Discussion

Data processing and facts in the field must be disclosed

6) Conclusion

It's better to sort them by number so it's easier to understand and more concise.
