

Review of: "Using Taxes to Attract the Creative Class in the Presence of a Region-Specific Rent"

Gerasimos Soldatos

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

This note adds to the literature on tax competition by assigning a positive but uncertain probability on a location-specific rent. The modeling and the subsequent conclusions are straightforward given the assumptions of the analysis. Previous refereeing of the paper has made the present version of it publishable as it is.