Thank you for sharing your manuscript. The topic is very relevant and current. I recommend adding the purpose or objective of your manuscript in the abstract and in the introduction. This will allow readers to understand the type of post you are presenting. I only see three chapters: introduction, discussion and conclusions-recommendations, so I understand that you are aiming more for an academic manuscript or essay. But I'm not sure. It is better that this is not left to the interpretation of the reader but that you are explicit about it. By defining the purpose it will also be clearer to establish what elements could be improved in the complete writing.
