The topic is very interesting and scientific. However, I have some concerns as follows:

1. The abstract must be revised and the grammatical mistakes.
2. I found no recommendation line in the abstract.
3. 2nd paragraph in the main text, the authors added references collectively after 3/4 sentences, but I would suggest writing down it separately where it references.
4. 4th paragraph (line 2) would be China not Chinese.
5. The authors wrote: "lymphopenia is the one of major problem in high percentage of patients affected by SARS-CoV-2 infection especially in severe cases. Natural killer (NK) cells destroy virally infected cells and together with cytotoxic T cells control the viral infection".

I would suggest correcting lymphopenia as Lymphopenia and adding reference to these two sentences.

1. Please revise this line: In conclusion, we hypothesize that cupping therapy as an adjuvant treatment along with other therapeutic strategies might ameliorate and cure COVID-19 symptoms and signs.

To conclude, the whole manuscript must be revised. There are many grammatical mistakes, missing references and spelling mistakes.

Thank you.
