

Open Peer Review on Qeios

Acrokeratoelastoidosis of Costa

INSERM

Source

INSERM. (1999). Orphanet: an online rare disease and orphan drug data base.

Acrokeratoelastoidosis of Costa. ORPHA:38

Acrokeratoelastoidosis of Costa is a rare dermatosis characterized by small, firm papules or plaques (resembling warts) on the sides of the hands and feet. These stationary and asymptomatic lesions appear generally at puberty, or sometimes later