Financial literacy always be an interesting area to be studied. Author should improve the literature review of financial literacy with more theory, factor, and others description.

In the part of Empirical Review and Hypothesis, author start with a statement that there is a significant relationship between the variable, meanwhile the explanation about empirical study among the variable is not described yet. Please concern to structure of sentences for writing cause and effect to avoid misperceptions.

Author should explaine the demographic of respondents, such as type of business, number of employee, source of fund, etc.
