Bidhya Shrestha

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Title should be rearranged. No need to write both survey and study in title. Better to remove survey from the title. Your objectives cover the challenges and motivational issues also so please rethink to rearrange the title including these words. Abstract should also be rewritten. Not clear.

Introduction: This article lack the clear research question, why the author is doing this research is not clear.

Objectives: Too many objectives in one article. Need to reshuffle the objectives.

Literature review: More focused on challenges and opportunities so rethink in title and no citation.

Methodology: Five thousands responses are not a joke but should clearly mention how the data was collected. The author should proofread their work as the author continue to use the word "will be" in this section. How did the writer obtain the overall count of female entrepreneurs? It was not made explicit by the author. There are three distinct purposes has stated in abstract, objectives, and methodology. Please be clear.

Result and findings: The author connects the findings with the research question in this section, which is among the most significant parts of the study. The results indicate a noteworthy outcome; nevertheless, they should be revised following the study question and objective.

References: All of the reviewed material that is mentioned in this paper must have complete references listed alphabetically. However, there are no citations in this work.

The issue is crucial given the present circumstances, however, the author should proofread their words and grammar. Data results ought to be presented in tables. The format of this paper isn't that of a journal paper.
