The work is interesting, has a clear degree of originality. Nevertheless, it needs some further improvements. In general, there are some occasional grammatical errors throughout the manuscript, especially the articles "the," "a," and "an" are missing in many places as well as the tenses of the sentences; please make spellchecking in addition to these minor issues. The reviewer has listed some specific comments that might help the authors further enhance the manuscript's quality.

Specific Comments

1. Abstract: I suggest the authors remove generic lines and present the novelty of the article. The abstract should be modified based on the most important quantity of results from this research.
2. Introduction: The Introduction section must be written in more quality way. There needs to be flow/sequence in writing the 'Introduction' section.
3. The objectives should be more explicitly stated.
4. Methodology: It is not clear in the manuscript. Please include a systematic framework. Data sources must be mentioned.
5. The methodology limitations should be mentioned.
6. Authors have used many abbreviations in the text. From this perspective, an Index of Notations and Abbreviations would be beneficial for a better understanding of the proposed work.
7. Results: This section is well written.
8. Conclusion: Some future works should be added to your conclusion.
