

Review of: "[Case Report] Supplementation with Vitamin D, Zinc, and Quercetin to Treat COVID-19: A Case Report"

Marwa Alkhafaji¹

¹ University of Baghdad

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

Dear Author

The article is very good, The combination of zinc with Vitamin D3 is crucial in this type of infections, especially for fatigue. This protocol followed in my country and it was useful.

An addition of the mechanism by which each item can do its role in healing separately and in combination will be valuable.

Comparison between each item alone and then with each other will be very interesting.

Zinc and D3 were used as a protocol for Omicron variant is it different in impact when compared with the current combination?

Thank you so much

Best Regards