Review of: "Implementation of e-learning during COVID-19"

Nibedita Nath

Potential competing interests: No potential competing interests to declare.

1. Many publications have already been done in the above topic.

2. The title of the paper should clearly mention the focus area. What is the focus of the paper? Its positive impact or negative impact or which aspect of implementation or a critical analysis of implementation of e learning.

3. Introduction should be improved. Citations must be included.

4. Methodology should be improved. Study area and sample size should be mentioned.

5. There is contradiction in the methodology itself. On one hand it is written that it is qualitative. On the other hand, it is written that statistical methods were employed.

6. The paper needs grammar check before submission.

7. It needs much improvement in all sections.

At this stage it is not in an acceptable format. It needs improvement in introduction, objective, methodology, discussion, and conclusion. I mean all parts needs revision and improvement.