Dean Author,

This is indeed a good research area focusing on leadership skills and how this helped in management of the pandemic.

There are a few concerns:

1. This is a scoping review, however only one author. Kindly consider this in terms of the data extraction and agreement from previous studies.
2. Introduction needs few more references. Paragraph 2 maybe shortened.
3. Results can be shown using tables with the articles included and details.
4. Emerging themes may be described first and then the details of each.
5. Discussion to be made more concise.
